Disclaimer: Bicycling, walking, and taking the bus are reliable and affordable forms of year-round transportation. However, you may get cold and perhaps frustrated depending on the conditions. There is a learning curve, so please read the information on our website and talk to other cold weather commuters.

PLEASE BE SAFE! Use your smarts and commute within your comfort level. Be aware of changing weather and temperatures that may create black ice. Have a back-up plan if you aren't comfortable finishing your commute.
